

March - Nature Spotter Sheet

Goat Willow fluffy grey catkins are starting to develop now!

Wild Garlic leaves are beginning to cover woodland floors. Smells amazing!

©Philip McErlean via Flickr.com

The 7 spot Ladybird begins to appear in mid to late March. It is one of about 20 species in Ireland

Primroses with their pale, yellow flowers can be found along roadsides and in woodlands

More and more trees are beginning to show signs of budburst. Leaves are nearly ready to appear!

©Michael John O'Mahony

Blue tits will begin to build their nests at this time of year. Look out for adults gathering nesting materials!