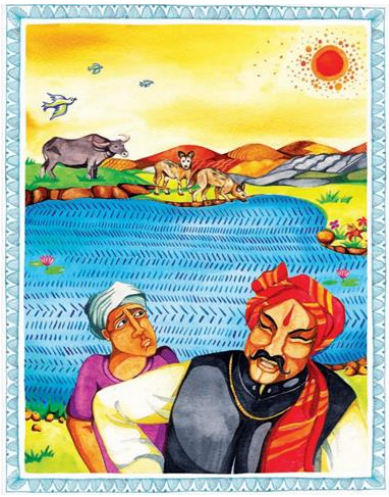
GLOBAL GOALS BOOK CLUB

Green-Schools

Who Owns the Water : A story from India by Deepa Balsavar

The animals in the story believed that they had a part to play in creating the watering hole. The rich farmer wants to claim it as his own because its on his land.



How can you , as one of the animals, convince the farmer that you own the water too?