

Runner Up Water Ambassadors

Coolock Community College

Dublin

Ava Kavanagh and Kariana Lovcova are the Water Ambassadors for Coolock Community College and have played an active role in raising awareness about water conservation and global water issues. As part of their work, they visited the Rediscovery Centre in Ballymun, where they took part in a hands-on Water Workshop that deepened their understanding of water sustainability.

They then led peer tutoring sessions for First Year students, focusing on water pollution in Ireland and global justice issues related to water access. To further promote awareness in their school and community, Ava and Kariana organised a Walk for Water to St. Brendan's Holy Well. During this outing, they visited Coolock Library to learn about the local area's history. Additionally, they took part in the JCSP "Make a Book" project, allowing them to creatively share their learning and experiences.
